PittWatch Giveaway - Eco-friendly scarf!

We've all noted that for quite some time Brad Pitt has been wearing a very stylish and trendy scarf in a lot of his public appearances. I'm a big scarf fan myself and I think it's a great look for him.

We also know that Brad works with a lot of eco-friendly companies. That's why I thought this would be an appropriate giveaway for a lucky winner here on PittWatch!

Christine Marchuska created a line of eco-friendly clothing, and they are offering up this unisex Hunter Scarf as a prize. It's made from a blend of organic modal and silk which offers up an eco-friendly design without sacrificing luxury, and it's long enough to drape around your neck like Brad Pitt does with his.

Unfortunately, I can't give you Brad with it, but you can be just as stylish and environmentally aware as he is!

All you need to do to enter is leave a comment here. Please don't leave your address in the comment, just use a valid email address so I can contact you if you win. Also, every giveaway there are always a few people who try to enter multiple times - please don't do it because I do check and I can tell if you're entering more than once. The scarf is worth $50 and the prize is available to all my readers, no matter where you live so international folks can feel free to enter too!

The contest will run until Friday, December 19th at 5 pm Eastern time, at which point I will close the comments and randomly draw a winner. The winner will have 48 hours to reply to me with an address, otherwise I'll have to draw a new one.

Good luck!
